Brightens One Up

There is something about Grape-Nuts food that brightens one up, infant or adult, both physically and mentally.

What is it? Just its delightful flavor, and the nutrient of whole wheat and barley, including their wonderful body and nerve building mineral elements.

A crisp, ready-to-eat food, with a mild sweetness all its own; distinctive, delicious, satisfying.

Stomach Germs Routed

BEWARE THE TRICKY SCIENTIST He Has a Scheme to Get People Up Earlier.

A deadly scheme for getting people up earlier in the morning is now being devised by a trained band of scientists who apparently have nothing else to do but devise methods to make people unhappy. It is so plausible, so logical, so appealing, that we take pleasure in warning everybody against it. It is a well known fact that in summer the sun rises earlier than it does in winter; but because we have a fixed schedule of hours throughout the year we do not change in our habits. The idea of the scientists, therefore, as they speciously put it, is to make us all get up a couple of hours earlier in the summer and go to bed a couple of hours later in the evening. This will save light at night and get more work out of us. They tell us it is being practiced in Germany.

We refuse to accept the proposition. No scientist has ever done any good, anyway, so far as we can see. We are more unhappy than ever. We are more unhappy than ever. We are more unhappy than ever.

The only thing that the scientists haven't tried to teach us, which is really more important than anything else, is how to run our government and how to live. The few of us who have any lingering doubts left, of the only remaining pleasure we have, namely, lying in bed.

We like to be able in the morning, and we like to be able at night under electric lights and as we wake up we know how with the warm blankets and the pretty much out of the window, including girls. For there is nothing more about women that we cannot see for ourselves. We like the sun about 8:30 in the morning, on Sundays about 9:30. Let us be—Life.

WOMEN IN THE INDUSTRIES. Who Will Make Beds and Cook Meals for Europe?

Each and Eirende warns the men that women have deserted the kitchen for good. It says in an editorial: "Woman's place," we have been told a good many times, "is in the home." Is that always so? One patriotic statement recently alleged that three hundred thousand women in Great Britain are now holding jobs that before the war were indisputably for men alone. Others have placed the number as high as a million. In Germany the number is greater, by all accounts, even in proportion to the population.

"These calculations, it is understood, do not consider the armies of women all over Europe who are doing farm work they did not perform under normal conditions. Women are street car conductors, and even motor men, printers, factory operatives, printers—they do almost anything that distressed countries need done. They are getting a new sense of their capabilities; they like the independence of even hard, unaccustomed work, if it pays good wages.

To face the fact that woman occupies a new place in its scheme. "After the war the world will have few secrets in diplomacy. Guides in American Service Are Golden Rule and Monroe Doctrine.

"The golden rule and the Monroe doctrine are, as John Hay, one of the greatest of American diplomats, said, "our guides in American diplomacy." "Truthfulness and discretion are, in his opinion, its distinguishing qualities. "We have generally told squarely what we wanted, announced early in the negotiations what we were willing to give, and allowed the other side to accept or reject our terms."

The secrets of diplomacy still exist, to be sure; many things are safely hidden in the archives, and still more in the memories of ambassadors and ministers. But diplomats cannot now safely "be abroad for the benefit of one's country at home." They may be reticent, or they may use language that veils their real purpose; but in no case is a lie looked on as more disgraceful and useless than in this career to be."

Tricks of the Mind. "Confound it all!" cried the business man. "I've forgotten my new telephone number. I didn't write it down, because that's an indication of mental weakness."

"What about forgetting the number?" said the other man. "Isn't that?"

"I don't know," said someone. "I give it up."

The other members of the party also "gave it up." The funny man, "a wooden horse." It has eyes, but can't see, legs, but can't walk.

"Yes," said a triumphant "about," "that's all very well, but what about it jumping as high as the Eiffel tower?"

"Can the Eiffel tower jump?" signed the funny man.

IT HELPED ME FROM THE VERY FIRST DAY

Mr. Ollie Boyer of Tulsa Was in a Broken Down Condition.

Suffered Five Months "I Don't Know When I've Tried Anything That Did Me So Much Good," He Says.

If there is a man in Tulsa that is more enthusiastic than any other of the scores who have been benefited by Orgatone, that man is Ollie Boyer of 412 North Main street, and who is one of the most competent and best known cafe chefs in this section of the country. Mr. Boyer is a genial gentleman of the old school, and is well liked and highly respected by all who know him. This Orgatone helped me from the very first day I began to take it," he said to a Orgatone representative at Getman's drug store yesterday. "I simply don't know when I have tried anything that pleased me so well or did me so much good. "I've suffered with stomach trouble, weakness and a general broken-down condition for five months," he continued, "and to save my life I couldn't get anything that seemed to help it or put me in any kind of shape. No kind of food agreed with me or gave me any strength, and after eating I would suffer for hours with sour stomach and gas that would swell me up and make me feel heavy and miserable.

During this time I took a great deal of pepsin and things like that, but it certainly didn't suit my case like Orgatone. For I tried a number of different things and got no permanent benefit from them; and when this new medicine came along and proved to be such a good medicine that people here in the city didn't seem to hesitate about endorsing it, I made up my mind that I ought to have some and purchased a bottle at once and began the treatment.

"I have certainly gotten remarkable results from its use, for I have had no trouble digesting my food since the first day or so, and I now eat heartily and feel better in every way and will continue the treatment as I am sure a few more bottles of this medicine will about fix me up."

Referring to Mr. Boyer's case, Mr. Johnson, the Orgatone health expert, said: "Probably more people suffer from this condition than from all other disorders and diseases put together. This is especially true of men and women whose business forces them to remain indoors all day and take the proper amount of exercise. Such people develop improper digestion, a sluggish liver and nervousness, accompanied by headaches and sleeplessness.

"According to the statements of thousands who have actually tested it, Orgatone goes straight to the seat of the trouble in all such cases, invigorating every organ and completely restoring strength and normal condition."

Orgatone is sold in Tulsa exclusively by Roy R. Getman's Retail store, under the personal direction of the Orgatone health expert—Adv.

mental weakness, too? Is it the number of your own phone?"

"Yes."

"Then why not call up your wife and ask her what it is?"

And without the slightest hesitation the forgetful man called up the forgotten number and asked his amazed wife what it was.

Unforeseen. Helen was attending her first party. When refreshments were served she refused a second helping to ice cream with a polite "No, thank you," although her look was wistful. "Oh, do have some more ice cream, dear," her hostess urged.

"Mother told me I must say, 'No, thank you,'" explained the little girl, "but I don't believe she knew the dishes were going to be so small."

Our Leader. "The Hungarians have their gon-lash the Russians their cat-lash."

"Well?"

"The Americans have no national dish."

EXTREME WEAKNESS AND SUFFERING

Read How Mrs. Goodling got Relief and Strength.

York, Pa.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and found it to be all you say it is. I was so sick that I could not stand at my sink to wash dishes and I could not sit without a pillow under me. I had the doctor every few days but since I have taken the Compound I don't have to send for him. I have had three children and could not raise any of them, but since I have taken the Compound I have a bright baby boy. I advise every suffering woman to try it and get relief. It has done wonders for me."

—Mrs. CATHERINE GOODLING, 138 E. King Street, York, Pa.

When a medicine has been successful in bringing health to so many, no woman has a right to say without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." There must be more than a hundred thousand women in this country who, like Mrs. Goodling, have proven what wonders Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can do for weak and ailing women. Try it and see for yourself.

If there are any complications you don't understand, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

ACUTE AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM

The exact cause of rheumatism is unknown, though it is generally believed to be due to an excess of uric acid in the blood. It may be also said with equal truth that no remedy has been found which is a specific in all cases. In fact the literature of rheumatism shows that there are but few drugs which have not been given a trial. In the hands of one observer we find that a certain drug has been used with the utmost satisfaction; others have found the same remedy to be a great disappointment. All physicians however agree that every method of treatment is aided by the administration of some remedy to relieve the pain and quiet the nervous system and Dr. W. B. Schullz expresses the opinion of thousands of practitioners when he says that anti-kamnia tablets should be given preference over all other remedies for the relief of the pain in all forms of rheumatism. These tablets can be purchased in any quantity. They are also unsurpassed in headaches, neuritis, and all pain. Ask for A-K Tablets.
